FUND COMMENTARY

The US stock market had good reason for a positive performance in December. US employment data remained reasonably healthy. The US Federal Reserve cut its target rate by 0.25% thereby supporting the economy. The surprisingly low US headline inflation figure of +2.7% was good news for capital markets, especially because the cost of shelter, the largest contributor, dropped further. All the other large contributors also moved lower. Earnings revisions for the S&P 500 index continued rising. The announcement of the strong third quarter US GDP of +4.3% further bolstered investor confidence. These collectively led to the traditional 'Santa Claus' rally.

The largest contributors to the Fund's performance over the month were S&P Global, Visa and GE Aerospace. The first two stocks benefited from a general rerating of quality stocks that have operationally continued delivering well, but with their stocks lagging the market for most of 2025 following the sharp rotation away from Quality into AI related stocks. This was also the case for the fourth and fifth largest contributors to performance (Mastercard and Aj Gallagher). It seems the rerating of Quality has begun, with good potential for a material contribution in 2026.

Following a brief lull in November, GE Aerospace's stock recovered its strong momentum in December. High demand for their turbines and aftermarket services led to expectations of high capital returns to shareholders.

The largest detractors from performance were EssilorLuxottica, Netflix and Broadcom. Information that Alphabet (Google) is planning to launch smart glasses with AI capability affected investor sentiment on the first. The unexpected news that Netflix is making a bid for Warner Bros Discovery, along with further news that Paramount Skydance is making a rival bid, affected investor confidence. Despite Broadcom's strong earnings report and news of a further large order from Anthropic, the stock fell on heightened fears over lower expected gross margins on the expanding AI related revenues.

OUTCOME OF FAIR VALUE ASSESSMENTS (2024)

Our assessment confirms:

- The Fund meets the needs of the target market.
- The intended distribution strategy remains appropriate.
- The Fund provides fair value to customers.

INVESTOR PROFILE

The Fund is appropriate for all investor types, including those with only a basic knowledge of funds, it is compatible with investors who do not need a capital guarantee (investors must be prepared to accept fluctuations in the value of capital, including the ability to bear 100% capital loss) and looking for capital growth. Due to the volatility of markets, investors should be willing to accept price fluctuations in exchange for the opportunity of potentially higher returns. This is a long term investment. Investors should have an investment time horizon of at least 5 years. The recommended holding period does not provide any guarantee that the objective will be achieved. This product is eligible for all distribution channels (e.g. investment advice, portfolio management, non-advised sales and pure execution services).

The fund is unlikely to be appropriate for those who:

- Are looking for full capital protection or full repayment of the amount invested, and those who want a guaranteed return
- Have no risk tolerance
- Who are unwilling to accept price fluctuations (volatility) in the value of the fund
- Do not intend to invest for the long term

RISK PROFILE

The Fund is not guaranteed and your investment is at risk. The value of your investment may go down as well as up. The Fund may enter into derivative agreements with counterparties, and consequently there is a risk that a counterparty may fail to meet its obligations. This may lead to delays in the Fund receiving amounts due to it, receiving less than is due or receiving nothing. As the Fund has exposure to overseas securities, movements in exchange rates may, when not hedged, cause the value of your investment to increase or decrease. The Fund invests in equity and equity related securities which are subject to various risks including fluctuations in market prices, adverse issuer or market information and the fact that equity and equity related securities are subordinate in the right of payment to other corporate securities, including debt securities. The value of equity securities varies with the performance of the respective issuers and movements in equity markets generally. As a result, the Fund may suffer losses if it invests in equity of issuers where performance falls below market expectations or if equity markets in general decline or the Fund has not hedged against such a general decline. The Fund may hold a relatively small number of stocks (approximately 20 to 30 positions) as compared to many other funds. This may make the Fund's performance more volatile than would be the case if it had a more diversified investment portfolio. For full details of the Fund's risks, please see the prospectus and supplement sections entitled 'Risk Factors'.
