INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE & PHILOSOPHY

The Fund aims to achieve long-term capital growth. The Fund aims to invest in equities falling mainly under the following categories: smaller companies which offer long-term growth; companies which offer recovery prospects; and companies in sectors which are perceived to be unduly depressed. There is no geographical restriction but in practice the Fund will be mainly invested in the UK. *

FUND COMMENTARY

Global stock markets and economies were hit hard following the escalation of hostilities in the Middle East and closure of the Straits of Hormuz. In February UK inflation held steady at 3% and is now forecast to be more than 4% by the end of the year. Already oil and gas prices have rocketed, and if the conflict between Israel, backed by the US, goes on for any length of time experts warn that food prices could increase by double digits. The Bank of England Policy Committee held interest rates at 3.75% but are now more likely to rise than fall. It is in everybody's interest, including Iran, for a resolution to the conflict and it is hoped for a settlement in weeks rather than months. Elsewhere, the Russia/Ukraine situation is unresolved. Stock markets will continue to be volatile and react sharply to the paradoxical statements from President Donald Trump.

Following its annual results presentation we have started a new holding in Kier the construction company. The shares are quoted at a discount to others in the sector and the company reports good momentum in revenue and profits moving into its new financial year. It boasts a strong balance sheet having moved into a net cash position and has a record order book in several sectors. From our stock-picking approach market movements allowed us to add to C&C Groups and Fevertree (drinks), Avingtrans and TT Electrical (industrial) and Microlise (software). To finance the purchases, we reduced eight overweight holdings which had outperformed. Moving forward we feel well placed and maintain an overweight position in the oil and gas sector. Energy prices might not stay at elevated levels when normality returns to the world but would still be at a premium over "pre-war" levels. Drilling costs are relatively stable and rising oil and gas prices would have a material effect on future cash flows and profits.

Elsewhere, numerous companies continue share buyback programmes which adds liquidity to the stock market and incoming ISA money in the new financial year could stimulate private investor demand. Consequently, we feel that the fund is well placed despite the global uncertainties.

*We have identified that the TM Stonehage Fleming Opportunities Fund factsheet incorrectly displayed the investment policy of the TM Stonehage Fleming AIM Fund. This error has been present since September 2025. The factsheets have now been corrected, and the appropriate investment policy is reflected. All other information contained in the factsheets has remained accurate.

1. The OCF is the management fee plus additional fund expenses (excluding transaction costs) as a percentage of the assets of the fund. This gives an indication of annual expenses which may vary over time.

RISK PROFILE

The following risks are material:

- The price of units/shares and any income from them may fall as well as rise and investors may not get back the full amount invested. Past performance is not a guide to future performance. There is no assurance that the investment objective of the Fund will actually be achieved.
- Where investments are in the shares of companies (equities), the value of those equities may fluctuate, sometimes dramatically, in response to the activities and results of individual companies or because of general market and economic conditions or other events.
- Significant exposure to a particular industrial sector or geographical region puts the Fund at risk of a localised event making a significant impact on the value of the Fund.

- Shares purchased on the AIM markets (especially those known as 'penny shares') carry a higher degree of risk of losing money than other UK shares.
- The requirements on companies that are listed on AIM market are less stringent than those for companies with a full market listing.
- There is usually a wider spread between the buying price and the selling price of these shares if they have to be sold quickly.
- There may be difficulty or delay in buying and selling shares due to a low level of trading activity on the AIM market (referred to as lack of liquidity).

All the risks currently identified as being applicable to the Fund are set out in the 'Risk' section of the Prospectus.

INVESTOR PROFILE

The Fund is appropriate for all investor types, including those with only a basic knowledge of funds. It is compatible with investors who do not need a capital guarantee (investors must be prepared to accept fluctuations in the value of capital, including the ability to bear 100% capital loss) and are seeking capital growth. Due to the volatility of markets, investors should be willing to accept price fluctuations in exchange for the opportunity of potentially higher returns. This is a long term investment and investors should have an investment time horizon of at least 5 years. The recommended holding period does not provide any guarantee that the objective will be achieved. This product is eligible for all distribution channels (e.g. investment advice, portfolio management, non-advised sales and pure execution services).

The Fund is unlikely to be appropriate for those who:

Are looking for full capital protection or full repayment of the amount invested, and those who want a guaranteed return

- Have no risk tolerance
- Who are unwilling to accept price fluctuations (volatility) in the value of the fund
- Do not intend to invest for the long term

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

This is a marketing communication issued by Stonehage Fleming Investment Management Limited (SFIM). SFIM is the Investment Manager of the Fund, authorised and regulated in the UK by the Financial Conduct Authority (FRN. 194382). The distribution or possession of this document in jurisdictions outside the United Kingdom may be restricted by law or other regulatory requirements. For details of the Funds investment policy, please see the Investment Objective and Policy section of the Fund Prospectus Document.

All investments risk the loss of capital. No guarantee or representation is made that the fund will achieve its investment objective. The value of investments may go down as well as up. For products designed to return income, the distributions can also go down or up and you may not receive back the full value of your initial investment. Derivatives have not been used but are allowed if appropriate for efficient asset management. The Fund only invests in UK assets but is allowed to hold shares on overseas exchanges. This would occur in the event of a company delisting from the London stock market and would not be expected to be material. Hence, there would be limited foreign exchange risk. Past performance is not a guide to future returns. If the information is not displayed in your base currency, then the return may increase or decrease due to currency fluctuations.
